LENINE REVOLT, VIEW IN LONDON

Assembling of German Fleet Near Helsingfors.

LONDON, Nov. 9 .- In London it was regarded as practically certain that Troteky and Lenine engineered their coup with Germany's direct aid. In this connection it was regarded as highly significant that cables yesterday reported a German fleet near Helsingfors, Finland, Sveaborg, one of the great Russian naval fortifications, guards Helsingtors, and is one of the chain of naval fortreases constituting the Baltic Sea defenses to Petrograd.

Kronstadi, the fortress nearest Petrograd, has always been a fever spot of Bolshaviki strength, Once enriy in the guinmer the garrison there revoited. Spheequently in other Bolsheviki demonstrations in Petrograd many of the paraders were Kronstadt sallors. Presumably Trotsky and his associates in the immediate peace plan now are supported by Kronstadt. If so, the German fleet would have no difficulty at all in sailing up to the Russian capital.
